

Our program today: Construction management – an industry relevant degree for technical people

Preparing students to supervise, manage, and inspect construction sites

Rowan University’s Construction Management Program Overview

The program is broken into 3 stackable certificates, which together make up core bachelor’s requirements

Certificate	Example courses	Example application on the job
Construction Management 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Fundamentals of the Construction Industry Project Building Systems Project Administration 	Assist stakeholder coordination Communicate effectively with project owners, engineers, and other subcontractors to ensure adherence to contract requirements and project success
Project Management 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Construction Project Planning & Scheduling Advanced Leadership & Communication Industrial Relations in the Cons. Industry 	Develop a work breakdown structure (WBS) Define key components of the WBS, analyze dependencies between different work packages, and ensure alignment on project milestones
Construction Leadership 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Building Energy Systems for Cons. Managers Building Construction Systems & Codes Construction Safety and Loss Prevention 	Host and lead a safety toolbox talk Effectively communicate safety procedures to a group, fostering proactive safety culture and encouraging discussion from participants